EXPERIENCE

James “Bo” Hammack joined Hughes Commercial Real Estate in 2015. As a licensed real estate agent since 2012, Bo specializes in tenant representation, lease negotiations, land acquisition, and sales. Integrity and hard work are the principles that guide Bo in servicing his clients. With these guiding principles, Bo prides himself on getting an intimate knowledge of his client’s business and applying it towards meeting their real estate goals. Using superb customer service Bo also enjoys educating his clients about current real estate market conditions. This ensures that his customers will make solid real estate decisions.

Growing up in Dalton, Georgia, the carpet capital of the world, Bo began his 15 year sales career with Shaw Industries, the leading producer of carpet in the world. While selling flooring he worked daily with owners, sales people and contractors to make sure the job was done correctly the first time. He also enjoyed working out logistical problems his customers had to ensure the end user was satisfied. He was consistently recognized as a top producer earning multiple awards for his region and the Southeastern United States. With this unique skill set Bo helps his real estate clients make sound decisions in their real estate transactions.
