EXPERIENCE

John Allen Mixon joined Hughes Commercial Real Estate in fall of 2016, immediately following his graduation from Georgia Southern University. As a 4th generation Atlanta Realtor, John Allen has been immersed in both commercial and residential real estate his entire life. By joining the Hughes Commercial Real Estate team, John Allen is building his career through partnering with experienced brokers in the firm in order to deliver outstanding service to his clients, while learning the fundamentals of the Atlanta commercial real estate business. Though still gaining experience, John Allen has earned the trust of clients ranging from veteran non-profits, a local distribution company, an international motor company, as well as healthcare developers. John Allen specializes in industrial buildings and land sites, assisting clients in tenant representation, land lord representation, lease negotiations, land acquisition, and sales. John Allen's passion is networking and developing relationships, which he uses to build a deep understanding of his client's companies and their real estate needs.
